

Site Design Option 2: The Carousel

This direction allows the user to interact with the home page.
The user can scroll through a carousel that has six topics and allows the user to jump to the information they're seeking without using the top navigation.

What do you think these 6 topics should be?

